Equal chance gaming is gaming which does not involve playing or staking against a bank, and where the chances are equally Favorable to all participants. Cryptocurrency trading involves buying and selling digital assets to make a profit. Unlike traditional currencies, cryptocurrencies are decentralized, meaning that they are not controlled by any government or financial institution.

What is Stake ?

Staking is when you lock crypto assets for a set period of time to help support the operation of a blockchain. In return for staking your crypto, you earn more cryptocurrency.

Many blockchains use a proof of stake consensus mechanism. Under this system, network participants who want to support the blockchain by validating new transactions and adding new blocks must "stake" set sums of cryptocurrency.

How Does Staking Work?

Staking is a good option for investors

If you own a cryptocurrency that uses a proof of stake blockchain, you are eligible to stake your tokens. Staking locks up your assets to participate and help maintain the security of that network's blockchain. In exchange for locking up your assets and participating in the network validation, validators receive rewards in that cryptocurrency known as staking rewards.
